BRISBANE 2007

Australasian Acupuncture & Chinese Medicine Annual Conference

Clinical Practice ♦ Research ♦ Theory & Philosophy ♦ Policy ♦ Regulation ♦ Education ♦ Standards ♦ Safety

18 - 20 May 2007

The Australian Acupuncture and Chinese Medicine Association Ltd (AACMA) cordially invites you to attend the

Australasian Acupuncture and Chinese Medicine Annual Conference (AACMAC 2007)

from 18 to 20 May 2007 in the delightfully diverse city of Brisbane - offering a tantalising blend of dining, shopping, nightlife and culture. Downtown Brisbane's riverside walkways combined with lush parks, tropical gardens and an inner city beach, make getting around the heart of Brisbane a scenic experience.

Academic conferences are important vehicles not only to promote academic exchange and to encourage debate and dialogue within the profession but also for the formation and development of friendships and networks between individual practitioners, academics and researchers. Fostering academic and professional networks within Australia as well as with our regional neighbours is an important factor in the long-term development and on-going sustainability of Traditional Chinese Medicine as an independent profession.

AACMAC Brisbane 2007 is the peak convention for networking between acupuncture and Chinese medicine practitioners in the Asia-Pacific region and should not be missed.
